CIRCLE-2 SHARE Workshop “From National Adaptation Strategies to concrete adaptation actions”

Vienna, Austria 20-21 October 2011

The Meeting’s OBJECTIVE is to share of knowledge and experience gained on the way “From National Adaptation Strategies to concrete adaptation actions” (e.g. practical Adaptation Measures) in support of climate change adaptation policy development, identification of research needs and opportunities for joint research, and establishment of conditions for transferability of good practice examples.

The Environment Agency Austria (EAA), in collaboration with the ZAMG (Central Institute for Meteorology and Geodynamics, Austria) the workshop is organized in the frame of the CIRCLE-2 ERA network that comprises different national climate change impacts, vulnerability and adaptation research programmes in Europe.

CIRCLE-2 is supported by the EU’s 7th framework programme.

The RESULTS of the workshop shall be followed up in one or more papers highlighting the outcomes as well as a set of recommendations and research needs for the EU (FP8), transnational (CIRCLE-2, Interreg programme) and various national research programmes. Additional, a set of Guidelines on how to turn generic, strategic recommendations from National Adaptation Strategies (NAS) into more practice-oriented Regional Adaptation Strategies (RAS) and actual adaptation actions, including mainstreaming of climate change into other policies and investment decisions

Because of limited space, the Meeting is by invitation only, but in case you are interested to participate or need more information, please contact Markus Leitner (markus.leitner@umweltbundesamt.at)
